Personal Profile

I am a motivated and friendly individual who can work very well as part of a team or individually and am always enthusiastic about my work. My main interests lie in design both web and mobile design. I have experience working in an office in the past and learn quickly when given different tasks. I have studied abroad in the past to further develop my skills as a designer in different environments. I wish to pursue a career in web programming and User Experience as I find it very enjoyable.

Experience

I have created unique solution for clients in the past with varying needs. I have developed a responsive website using the bootstrap framework for the small storage company Family Box Limited. This allows the website to resize to and screen size and look pleasing to the users.

I have works alongside three companies whilst living in Denmark creating a range of different design based solutions to fit their needs. Problems such as concept video marketing ideas, a website redesign and optimisation and a fun interaction service such as an application. The companies that I worked with were Eva Solo, Visit Vestzealand and The Danish haemophilia society

Another company I have also developed a concept design as well as a functional prototype is V Base the volunteering society based and Edinburgh Napier University. The project was based around human centred design framework and to give students new was to interact with V Base and find volunteering opportunities.

Interests

My hobbies are Golf I enjoy playing the local course when the weather is nice, Music and Outdoor Activities such as hill walking and kayaking. In my spare time, I also like to develop my coding skills and learn new programming languages.
